Letter from a grateful patient to Doctor Lili

Dear Acupuncture Lady,

I feel that I must express my appreciation to you for the way that you came to my rescue and literally saved my life on the evening of Saturday 11th of January 2003 at 4.30 pm.

Without your intervention I would now be in the company of my ancestors, and at 70 years of age that is far too young.

My health has now picked-up and I am feeling fine.

It is amazing that a young lady comes all the way from China, - such a tremendous distance to England, - just to save my life!

The Chinese philosopher "Confucius" once said, "When a half a dozen people walk across a bridge together, this is not a random moment in time, the individual kama of each person places them there.

And so it is when people come into your shop to see you, it is not a chance encounter.

It may seem on the surface that your shop is situated in Queens-gate in a prime position to make money.

In the grand plan of life that is of secondary consideration.

4. Please accept this small box of Chocolates as my appreciation for the wonderful way that you took care of me.

5. Usually on such an occasion Englishmen show their appreciation by giving a Rolls-Royce car, but the Government now says this practice must stop, too much carbon gas poison and global warming!

Another way of showing their appreciation is to send a person on a luxury liner cruise around the world for a year.

But I am told that it would keep you away from your work for too long a time, - and your customers would get very angry!

So I'm afraid it's down to these chocolates.

I sincerely thank you for your kindness and the expertise you showed in your work. Thank you
